Academic News:

Spanish:

All the Spanish students were treated to making day of the dead bread in Ms.

Laura Wainright's kitchen. The culinary students made the dough and the Spanish students molded it, it was baked and then served for the students to enjoy. Each student in Ms. Mankowski's class was to bring in a dish that was something special in their family to commemorate "Día de los Muertos." Students spoke with the grandparents, parents, and other family members and made such things as chicken and dumplings, an old family cookie recipe, and a recipe for a cake that had been in a family for 3 generations.
